

Wei Wei

Engineering Consultant

 Fairborn, OH, 45324

 (650) 353-1329

 wwei55166@gmail.com

Innovative Technical Leader with strong abilities in management and leadership. Experience managing diverse team of more than 30 employees and increasing overall revenue by nearly 400% in 5 years. Expertise in program and project management, strategic planning and risk management. More than 20 years of strong technical expertise in electronics industry, including electronics components and packaging technology, semiconductor technology, circuit design, battery technology, failure investigations and novel analysis techniques, risk assessment and mitigation, intellectual property and technology due diligence.

Skills

- Advanced problem solving
- Project Management
- Failure analysis, Quality and Reliability
- Risk Management
- People and Team Development
- Technology Innovation

Work History

● Executive Vice President

Hongyear Information and Technology (Shanghai) Company, Shanghai, China

- Aligned organizational objectives with company mission, raising funding, increasing revenue, profits and business growth by collaboratively developing integrated strategies
- Spearheaded the development of artificial intelligence (AI) based learning tools and products for K-12 Chinese reading education, managed promotional campaigns and used results to communicate organizational value and solutions at industry summits and trade shows
- Oversaw daily administrative operations, hired and trained middle-level managers in many departments, including human resources, office

2020-04 - 2020-10